1. This website uses the following types of cookies:

Cookie Name	Purpose	How?
Session	Record the user inputs data on the Website	When the user fills out a form
"plug in" social networking	Allow user to share content with members of a particular social network	As long as the user has disconnected from a social network
Google Analytics	For usage statistics Web Site use cookies in order to know the level of recurrence of our visitors and more interesting content. This way we can concentrate our efforts on improving the most visited areas and make the user more easily find what they are looking for. The Website may use information about your visits to conduct assessments and statistical calculations on anonymous data, and to ensure the continuity of service or to make improvements to their websites. For more details, see the link below privacy policy [http://www.google.com/intl/es/policies/privacy/]	When you access the Web Site

2. Consent:

The user acceptance of these conditions allows the use of cookies. This website uses those strictly necessary for proper operation and perform Web usage statistics, which in no way provides the user identifiable.

The storage and processing of information obtained due to a technical purpose, the purpose of carrying out the transmission of a communication by electronic communications network and to carry out the provision of a service society expressly requested information by the registered user.

In any case, the user can access the preferences menu of your browser and set it to not install cookies, delete existing and / or remove them before start browsing the other pages of the website. You can also use blocking tools tracking cookies as Do Not Track.